90th Birthday Party To Honor Walter Clark

Walter E. Clark of Provo will be celebrating his 90th birthday Thursday, May 31. Friends and associates are invited to attend an open house in his honor from 2 to 4 p.m. at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hames (Gladys Clark) Farmer, 150 E. 4200 N., Provo.

Mr. Clark was born in Centerville, Davis County to Edward Barrett and Alice Randall Clark. He served his first mission to Northern States Mission in 1913, and graduated valedictorian from BYU in 1926. He spent most of the first 80 years of his life in Georgetown, Ida., where he was a rancher, school teacher and school administrator.

He and his wife, Lelia Willett Clark, served an LDS mission to the Southwest Indian Mission in 1969-70 before retiring to their present home in Provo.

Always active in church and community activities, Mr. Clark has served as a bishop, a stake Sunday School worker, a high councilman, and a temple worker. He also served as the Georgetown Village treasurer and an officer of the Dry Valley Cattleman's Association, the Georgetown Irrigation Company, the Bear Lake County Superintendent of Schools and the chairman of the county school board.

In 1972 he and his wife were awarded the Joseph F. Smith Family Living Award from the Brigham Young University, and commended for their lifetime of devoted service and the outstanding accomplishments of their seven children.

The Clarks have six sons and one daughter: Mrs. Farmer and Wayne Clark, both of Provo; Alan Clark, Rexburg, Ida.; Glen W. Clark and Nolan Clark, both of Washington, D.C.; One Clark, Seattle, and Virgil Clark, Sedalia, Mo. All are graduates of universities. There are 32 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.
