Category: Volume
Person: Sarah Lavina Clark
Date:

October Ist, 1948

Dear Aunt Sarah,

The memories of my childhood are all tied into memories of you. There was nothing I liked more than to walk with you down the track past Lagoon, then on along the ditch bank until we reached the road that led us to your home under the hill. Then when the new house was finished, to go there was even more Iun. It was an experience very flattering to me, for you gave me the impression that you were interested in my thoughts and to what happened to me.

While you were president of Mutual I would sit listening to you strongly resolving that no one would ever have cause to be ashamed of anything I would ever do, so I can say that you were an inspiration to me.

Always I have admired you for your courage under difficulties and for your poise under trying circumstances. Your smiling face is the picture that comes before me when my thoughts turn to you. Truly you have earned the reward you are now receiving, our admiration and our loyalty.

May peace and happiness be yours.

Sincerely,
