Irrigation Company, and served as one of the directors.

I was one of the incorporators of the Farmington Commercial and Manufacturing Company, and also of the Davis County Bank, and served as a director until I went on a mission February 6, 1908.

After returning from my mission October 6, 1910, I helped organize, and served as a director of the Federal Land Bank Association of Farmington. For more than twenty one years I was chairman of the appraising committee. I was also president of the company nearly all of the time.

I was an honored guest at a convention held in Berkely, California in 1927. The bank paid all of my expenses as I had been a director for over twenty years. I had a wonderful time visiting with bank officials, and also my daughter Mary and her husband Owen. I also greatly enjoyed seeing the sights in and around San Francisco.

The following is a copy of a letter from J.R. Hinchcliff, expressing appreciation for my service:
